

DEMON PROJECT

Founders of Siberian electronic death metal as they are called today, one of the most respectable and well-known metal bands in Eastern Russia appeared on the scene in the beginning of the new century as a project of progressive musicians from Novosibirsk city. Songs are inspired by the ancient myths of Altai the highland part of the southern Siberia, lyrics show the modern world through the philosophy of ancient tribes. Music incorporates complicated synthesized sound with heavy guitar riffs and growlings.

The original style and bright live shows immediately attracted many fans all over Russia. Songs from the band's first demo album became part of 6 CD compilations and were played on the several local radios

In 2007 the band recorded and issued EP "Fear Is My Rage". The EP received good reviews from the media and e-zines and it inspired the band to continue with the full-length album. The new CD called "Kara Ora" was recorded in 2008. The album was released in 2009. Artwork for this CD was created by Gyula Havancsak, who made covers for Annihilator, Grave Digger, Destruction, Nightingale, Iron Maiden, and others. Title song was played on many radio stations in Russia and Europe including famous Bruce Dickinson Friday Rockshow on BBC 6 Music. Right after release the band went on it's first Russian tour.

In order to get the most powerful sound the band entered Fascination Street Studio (Orebro, Sweden) and recorded the new material with leading Sweden producer Jens Bogren famous by his works with Opeth, Soilwork, Paradise Lost, God Forbid, Amon Amarth, etc. Additional vocals are performed by the famous Sweden musician and vocalist Dan Swano (Edge of Sanity, Nightingale, Bloodbath...etc.)

In the end of 2009 the band released the new single "I Lead You". The single also contained a video that became a scandal due to the BDSM scenes, but it also attracted many new fans to the forthcoming album.

The new album was called "Faces Of Yaman" that means "Faces Of Evil". It was released in 2010. With this new record Demon Project goes further in exploring the metal and industrial styles and it is ready to perform this work to the new fans all over the world.