

MIND'S COVE

There's a place within us where the collective of our thoughts, memories, experiences and perceptions tacitly create something beyond expectations, waiting to be brought to light. Mind's Cove was born in 2016 as a Metal studio project by vocalist Matteo Melita, who felt he gathered so many musical ideas in his head that he had to let them out. With the help of Guitarist Sergio Camelia, He managed to to give those riffs and melodies a proper form. Together they began to write the eight songs he had in mind and when they felt it was necessary to take a further step, they recruited Andrea Calabro' on the drums. Andrea grew so fond of the project that he wanted to help funding it. All three contacted producer Marco Maria Pennisi in order to make a professional recording. A longtime friend and collaborator of Marco Maria, Angelo Trimarchi, took on the role of the bassist, so the newly formed Line-up began recording the tracks that make up the LP titled 'Drift'. Now that the album is done, Mind's Cove has found a new bassist in Alessandro Scalia and an additional guitarist in Federico Figlioli; the new line-up is currently rehearsing in preparation for a future live promotion.